Election Meeting for the (Co-) Speaker Position

Volunteer as a speaker!

While the PhD program at our Institute for Physics promotes various competences in the field of analytical-scientific thinking and enables the acquisition of experience in a specific field of research, the GRK offers broad personal development opportunities. In the GRK, various areas of teamwork skills can be strengthened, such as communication, project organization, project leadership, and others, especially when serving as a speaker.

Therefore, the additional workload from being a spokesperson not only pays off in successful events that improve the quality of our doctoral education - being a spokesperson also strengthens the personality skillset and the ability to work in teams outside your field of expertise. Finally, working as a speaker is a fun way to give something back to the institute and fellow doctoral students.

Agenda

In this meeting, the current (co-) speaker Benjamin Liewehr and Anna Julia Poser present the projects pursued in this semester, highlighting active members contributing this summer semester.

The new (Co-) Speaker will be elected.

A group photo will be taken afterwards, outside in the Am-Phi-Theater (spot between the informatics institute and the lecture building). Please take your mask and keep distance!
